

YOUR “BUCKET LIST”

You have a secret list of things you really want to do in your lifetime. If you are nearing the end of your life, you clearly don't have as much time to accomplish this list before you “kick the bucket.” So, don't give up! Do what you can! Start today! If you are not imminently facing the end of your life, make your list and start working on it now. Starting now will allow you to accomplish more than you ever thought possible, rather than rushing around at a later point in life, when you have limited time.

SET YOUR PRIORITIES. GOOD LUCK. HAVE FUN!

What is a Bucket List?

Important Considerations

- Honestly estimate how long you may have to live. Many years, a few months, weeks?
- How strong are you? How good is your health?
- What are your financial resources?
 - ❖ If you have been diagnosed with a terminal disease, and have life insurance, some insurance companies have policies which allow some or all of the amount of the insurance to be advanced, prior to death.
