

Table of Contents

Foreword	5
Position Statement on Euthanasia and Physician-Assisted Suicide	8
Quotes: On Life After Death by Elisabeth Kubler-Ross, MD	9
Introduction	10
Poem by Kahlil Gibran	11

Section One: Dying in Modern America

Chapter 1: Why is an ER Doctor Writing a Book on Death Planning?	13
Chapter 2: Death Comes When Expected and When Not	15
Chapter 3: Why is Death a Stranger Here?	20
Chapter 4: Natural Death, Artificial Life, and the Choices in Between	26

Section Two: End-Of-Life Dramas—Learning by Example

Chapter 5: Fighting Death—One Doctor’s Awakening	41
Chapter 6: Withholding, Withdrawing, and Refusing Medical Interventions	47
Chapter 7: The Operation Dad Should Not Have Had	53
Chapter 8: When DNR is Not Enough—Health Care Proxies, Living Wills, and Other Dilemmas	56
Chapter 9: Advanced Planning—A Success Story	63
Chapter 10: “It’s OK to Die”—Identifying Death and Letting Go in the Last Hours	65
Chapter 11: We Agreed to Let Mom Die	75
Chapter 12: A Good Death	80

Section Three: The Medicine of Relief

Chapter 13: Against Suffering—Palliative Care in All Stages of Illness	90
Chapter 14: Terminal Illness—What to Know When You Enter the Land of No Return	92
Chapter 15: Hospice Doesn’t Kill—Setting the Record Straight	99

Section Four: Making Peace With Death

Chapter 16: Dying for the Believer and the Non-Believer 106
Chapter 17: Six Things That Must Be Said, to Make it “OK to Die” 112
Chapter 18: Leaving a Legacy 117

Section Five: New Directions for End-Of-Life Decision Making

Chapter 19: How Do We Make Decisions for Others? 123
Chapter 20: The Personal Self-Assessment Scale (PSAS)
and Prospective Medical Decision Making 127
Chapter 21: For Doctors 131
Chapter 22: Final Resting Places and Dealing with the Funeral Industry Monopoly 141

Section Six: Politics and Death—Choosing Our Own Future and the Future of the Nation

Chapter 23: Self-Determination—The American Way 148
Chapter 24: Dying is a Universal Non-Partisan Experience 154
Chapter 25: The Denial of Death and the Bankrupting of America 157
Chapter 26: Moving from High-Tech to High-Touch Medicine 161
Chapter 27: Reforming End-of-Life Care—The Three R’s
We Can All Agree On 165

The END. 170
Appendix 171
Glossary 179
About the Authors 181
Personal Dedications and Acknowledgements 182
End Notes 185